

Dear Supporter,

As Eddie Andrew Meredith embarks on his campaign to become the next Mayor of Atlanta, we are building a movement rooted in dignity, opportunity, and unity. Eddie's vision is bold and heartfelt: an Atlanta where every resident-regardless of zip code-can thrive. But no great mission is accomplished alone.

We are reaching out to ask for your support-not just in spirit, but in tangible ways that fuel our campaign and serve our community.

We are currently in urgent need of food and supply donations for upcoming campaign events, volunteer mobilizations, and outreach drives. These resources help us keep the momentum going while ensuring that every person involved in our mission is supported with care

Here is a summary of our current needs:

Supplies	Bottled Water - Snacks (individually packaged items), Any food items	Necessary materials for our daily operations.
Personal Hygiene Products	Sanitizer, wipes, Deodorant, toothbrushes, first aid kits and etc.,	Necessary items to help keep the people in the community safe.
Outreach Efforts	Gift cards, tents, tables, chairs, volunteers	To increase awareness and reach more people.

Your donation-whether big or small-will directly impact our ability to show up for Atlanta's neighborhoods, share Eddie's vision, and create a welcoming environment for every supporter and volunteer.

Together, we can shape a city where leadership reflects the strength and compassion of its people. Thank you for considering this opportunity to be part of something powerful.
